

Avery Mazur

Avery Mazur is a highly respected political strategist and operative in South Florida, known for his deep expertise in campaigns and government affairs across Miami-Dade and Monroe counties. With a career beginning in 2017, he has quickly become a fixture in local and statewide politics, leveraging his strategic acumen and extensive network to drive success for a range of high-profile candidates.

Avery's campaign experience spans across various levels of government, from local races to national campaigns. His notable achievements include managing operations for President Donald Trump's campaign in Miami-Dade and Monroe counties during the 2020 election. Avery worked under Susie Wiles and state director Kevin Cabrera, where he played a critical role in securing the region's support. His efforts were key to Florida's success in the election, helping to solidify the state's pivotal role in the broader national results. He has also been involved in the successful campaigns of key political figures such as Miami-Dade Chairman Commissioner Anthony Rodriguez, Florida House members Demi Busatta, former Representative Vance Aloupis, and Commissioner Kevin Cabrera.

In addition to his work on the campaign trail, Avery served as a legislative aide in the Florida House of Representatives to Daniel Perez, the current Speaker of the House. His time in the legislature involved shaping policy proposals and securing funding for critical issues affecting Miami-Dade constituents, further solidifying his reputation as a skilled policy advocate with bipartisan relationships.

Now at The Southern Group, Avery continues to focus on Miami-Dade and Monroe counties while engaging with statewide policy issues, particularly in transportation, healthcare, economic development, and information technology. His deep knowledge of local issues and his strong government connections make him a key asset for clients navigating complex political landscapes.

Avery was born in New Orleans but considers Miami home. He earned his degree in political science from Florida International University and now resides in Miami-Dade with his wife Janeth and daughter. Outside of his professional life, Avery enjoys spending time outdoors with his family, particularly at the beach or kayaking in the Florida Keys.
